Dear C-Tech Certified Instructor:

Ref: Career Opportunities for Technicians with C-Tech's Network Cabling Specialist & Voice Communications Professional Certifications

From structured voice, data and video cabling to network electronics and nationwide rollouts, Wachter Network Services keeps companies connected. We deploy sophisticated network infrastructure and electronics that enhance network performance and add functionality, delivering a solid return on our customers' investment. We've been solving clients' problems since 1930.

Due to current market conditions, Wachter is expanding its nationwide workforce. These projects require Voice/Data Technicians needed to run service and special projects. Will be responsible for installing, troubleshooting and repairing category 3, 5, fiber optic, and coax cabling systems and related equipment such as key systems and PBXs.

Wachter has signed on as a C-Tech Partner in Education because we recognize the value of the training provided by C-Tech's courseware. We have reviewed and approved the curricula and recognize the Network Cabling Specialist and Voice Communications Professional certifications as a valuable credential in the commercial and residential Telecommunications marketplace.

During the next 12 months, we anticipate a great deal of growth in the following area of the country: Atlanta, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Cincinnati, New York, Boston and other areas throughout the South and Midwest. We are looking to you and your students to help fill those positions.

We welcome the opportunity to interview your students. If you would like for one of our local representatives to come into your class as a guest speaker or to demonstrate some specialized test equipment for the class, please contact C-Tech's Ken Lowenstein at 973.726.9000 ext. 203.

We look forward to working with you and the possibility of hiring your students.

Regards,

Chris Runyan
